

What is the Chamber?

The Quad Area Chamber of Commerce is a volunteer-driven, nonprofit organization established in 1999 to help all businesses in the local communities of Circle Pines, Centerville, Lexington, and Lino Lakes prosper. Particular attention is paid to the economic, civil, commercial, industrial, and educational interests of the area.

The Chamber is a resource for dealing with a wide variety of business issues. We offer timely, relevant information and a network of local businesses that come together as one voice for the greater good of the Quad Area. Members benefit from networking opportunities, special events, business resources and more.

Testimonials

"Olson's joined the Quad Area Chamber of Commerce to learn more about the other businesses that serve the member communities and possibly build new business to business relationships. My expectations were exceeded! Through the networking portion of each monthly member meeting I have met many business owners and managers of companies I had only heard of in the past. One of the best benefits of membership has been the educational opportunities. Every month speakers present relevant information that is helpful in running and growing a business. Topics have included current human resources issues, social media strategies, website development, team building, and more. The membership fee is a small investment that has yielded a great return for our company."
